

KOREA POLICY INSTITUTE

and UC Berkeley's International and Area Studies, Institute of East Asian Studies, and Center for Korean Studies present

REUNIFICATION: Building Permanent Peace in Korea

Friday, October 10, 2008

9 AM to 5 PM

Alumni House

University of California, Berkeley

Participants Include:

Bruce Cumings University of Chicago

Selig Harrison Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars

Christine Ahn Korea Policy Institute

John Feffer Foreign Policy in Focus

Martin Hart-Landsberg Lewis and Clark College

Thomas P. Kim Korea Policy Institute

Karin Lee The National Committee on North Korea

Gi-Wook Shin Stanford University

Jae-Jung Suh Johns Hopkins University

Seung Hye Suh Korea Policy Institute

Philip W. Yun The Asia Foundation

John Lie University of California, Berkeley

Ramsay Liem Boston College

(and others)

This conference will bring together academics, policy experts, community members, and advocates for a lively, focused, and informed discussion on peace and unification in Korea and what U.S. policymakers and communities can do to support and engage in this process.

Everyone is welcome. Pre-registration at www.kpolicy.org is strongly encouraged.

Contact (연락): conference@kpolicy.org

